

NEWS ▾ COMMUNITY ▾ SUBSCRIBE DIGITAL EDITION ▾ SURVEYS

Health Care Law

The brief 2020 legislative session dealt with some of the major issues from the coronavirus, such as making temporary telehealth solutions more long-term. But 2021 has seen many legislative issues bubble up that either continue that work – such as expanding the telehealth bill from last year – or that address controversial topics that have been a long time coming, such as the creation of a public option for health insurance as well as other topics like an expansion of protections for pregnant mothers.

Senate Considers Telehealth Reimbursement for Dentists
Avery Martinez

April 15, 2021 Court Opinions – Colorado Court of Appeals
Jess Brovsky-Eaker

Proponents Seek Compromise to Push Public Option Forward
Jessica Folker

General Assembly Must Stop Interfering with State's Judiciary
Law Week Contributor

2nd Circuit Climate Ruling May Indicate Trouble for Colorado Cases
Hank Lacey

Lawmakers Introduce Trio of Pregnancy-Focused Bills
Hank Lacey

Telehealth — Where Are We One Year After the Public Health...
Law Week Contributor

Colorado Supreme Court Clarifies Questions in Workers' Comp Cases
Jessica Folker

As Amtrak Eyes Front Range, Questions Remain About Rail in Colorado
Avery Martinez

Biden Commission to Consider Supreme Court Reform
Hank Lacey

1 2 >

Page 1 of 2

In This Issue

Features

- Lawmakers Introduce Trio of Pregnancy-Focused Bills
- Proponents Seek Compromise to Push Public Option Forward
- Senate Considers Telehealth Reimbursement for Dentists

People

- Greenberg Traurig Adds One

News

- Biden Commission to Consider Supreme Court Reform
- As Amtrak Eyes Front Range, Questions Remain About Rail in Colorado

Corporate Counsel Insight

- 10th Circuit ADA Ruling Could Guide Future Remote-Work Requests

Courts

- Colorado Supreme Court Clarifies Questions in Workers' Comp Cases
- 2nd Circuit Climate Ruling May Indicate Trouble for Colorado Cases
- April 15, 2021 Court Opinions – Colorado Court of Appeals

Opinion

- Telehealth — Where Are We One Year After the Public Health Emergency?
- General Assembly Must Stop Interfering with State's Judiciary

1

Rectangle (Block)
300w x 250h at 72 PPI (under 1 MB)
in JPG or PNG format with Link

2

Half-Page
300w x 600h at 72 PPI (under 1 MB)
in JPG or PNG format with Link